

Careers and Higher Education Fair, November 2017

The process of making decisions about the future has become increasingly complex. The decisions regarding which courses to choose, and what to aim for in education and employment, are challenging.

To help the students think more effectively about the future and the decisions they will face, Gunnersbury organised a Careers and Higher Education Fair, bringing together more than 30 universities, education providers and businesses from around the country.

The event was attended by students from Year 9 to Year 13. Our students had the opportunity to discuss degree courses in everything from Medicine and Law, to Sports Science and History.

For our younger students it was the chance to think about GCSE and A-Level subject options. For our 6th Formers, there was the chance to have a detailed conversation about how different universities deliver their courses and the support required for application.

Large companies, such as Sky and CBRE, were also available to discuss the exciting opportunities they offer school leavers and graduates.

Here are some of the organisations that Gunnersbury students had the opportunity to talk to:
