Gunnerybury Catholic School

Special Educational Needs & Disabilities (SEND) Policy

This policy document is intended to be of practical use and to make explicit the philosophy, aims, organisation and resources which are deployed to support staff in meeting pupil's special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). It conforms to the recommendations of the Special Educational Needs Code of Practice 2014.

Aims of Gunnerybury Catholic School SEND Policy

- To ensure that all pupils have access to a broad, balanced, curriculum developing fluency within their subjects.
- To ensure that the provision for pupils with SEND should match the nature of their needs wherever possible within allocated budget.
- To integrate pupils with SEND into the life of the school, providing additional support as required to achieve this.
- To fulfill the school Mission Statement:

“Gunnerybury Catholic School strives to educate all its pupils within an environment where the Catholic traditions of learning, truth, justice, respect and community are promoted.

It encourages all to engage in as broad an interpretation of education as it is possible, and one which is in keeping with the motto ‘Ad Altiora’ – To Higher Things”.

- To ensure that SEND students, in common with their peers, are equipped with the knowledge and cultural capital they need to succeed in life.

Objectives of Gunnerybury Catholic School SEND Policy:

- To outline the provision which will be organised for students with SEND.
- To clarify what SEND support the school is able to offer.

- To provide a succinct guide to approaches to SEND at Gunnersbury Catholic School.

Definitions of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities

Pupils have special educational needs or disabilities if they have difficulty accessing the curriculum which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

Pupils have difficulty accessing the curriculum if they:

- Have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age or
- Have a disability that prevent or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for children of the same age in mainstream schools (SEND Code of Practice 2014).

The purpose of identification is to work out what action the school needs to take, not to fit a pupil into a category. However, these four broad areas of need, identified in the SEND Code of Practice (2014) give an overview of the range which are planned for:

- Communication and interaction, (including Speech and Language Difficulties).
- Cognition and Learning, (including Specific Learning Difficulties).
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, (including Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, Autistic Spectrum Conditions).
- Sensory and/or physical needs, (including visual impairment, hearing impairment and physical disability).

Identifying Special Educational Needs and Disabilities

Special educational provision may be triggered when students fail to achieve adequate progress, despite having had access to differentiated materials as part of quality first teaching.

Lack of adequate progress may be indicated by:

- Little or no progress despite the use of targeted teaching approaches and 'quality first teaching' and a differentiated curriculum.
- Working at levels significantly below age expectations, particularly in literacy or numeracy.
- Presenting persistent emotional and/or behavioural difficulties, which have not been managed by appropriate strategies employed by classroom teachers and pastoral staff.
- Sensory or physical impairments that result in little progress despite the provision of appropriate aids or equipment.
- Poor communication or interaction, requiring specific interactions and adaptations to access learning.

The following are NOT SEND but may impact on progress and attainment:

The Code of Practice outlines the “reasonable adjustment” duty for all settings and schools provided under disability equality legislation. The following areas alone do not constitute SEND:

- Persistent disruptive behaviour where there are no causal factors, such as undiagnosed learning difficulties or difficulties with communication or mental health issues.
- Attendance and punctuality.
- Health and Welfare.
- EAL.
- Being in receipt of Pupil Premium Grant.
- Being a Looked After Child.
- Being a child of a Serviceman/woman.

Ultimate responsibility for both SEND and all the students at Gunnersbury Catholic School rests with the Headteacher. Day to day co-ordination of SEND is organised by the schools Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Co-ordinator (SENDCO). The line manager is a Deputy Headteacher.

Within the school the SENDCO will advise the Senior Leadership Team on issues associated with SEND.

Admission of children with special educational needs

The school fully supports the inclusive principles underpinning the Special Educational Needs & Disability Code 2014 and the Equality Act 2010, and welcomes applications for the admission of children with SEND where their needs can be met in a mainstream school setting.

All applications for admission are dealt with by the school in accordance with the school's Admissions Policy which complies with the provision of the School Admissions Code 2014. The Admission Policy contains oversubscription criteria which set out how places will be allocated in the event that the school receives more applications than there are places available.

Full details of the school's admission arrangements and oversubscription criteria can be found in the school's Admission Policy which is published on the school's website.

Applications for admission of children with an Education Health and Care Plan are not dealt with under the school's Admission Policy. There is a separate regulated procedure which is followed by the local authority and the school for naming the school in the child's EHC plan. The school will admit the child, except where doing so would be:

- Incompatible with the efficient education of other students at the school; and there are no reasonable steps which can be taken by the school to secure compatibility.

- The placement is not appropriate for the child's age, aptitude or SEND.
- The placement does not constitute an efficient use of resources.

The school will only take this decision where it is clear that the needs of the child with SEND cannot be met without having a detrimental effect on the education of other students at the school, and there is nothing the school can do to mitigate the impact of this.

Integration

Students with SEND are fully involved in the life of Gunnersbury Catholic School and have full access to all aspects of school life (both through curricular and extracurricular activities).

Transition Arrangements

Gunnersbury Catholic School is committed to meeting the needs, wherever possible, of all students. This is reflected within the schools transition arrangements. Contact is maintained between Gunnersbury Catholic School and feeder primary schools to ensure continuity in education during the transition between the primary and secondary phase. The SENDCO receives information relating to each year's new intake. This information may take a variety of forms and is used to formulate plans for meeting their special educational needs.

Children entering Year 7 at Gunnersbury Catholic School are placed in mixed ability classes and a screening programme is used to identify those with special educational needs. This includes:

- Information from primary schools.
- National Curriculum results.
- Cognitive Ability Testing (CATS).
- New Group Reading test (NGRT).

Whenever possible the SENDCO attends Year 6 Annual Review meetings for students with Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCPs).

Provision for resourcing of SEND

Resources for SEND come from different areas. These include:

- Student specific Education, Health and Care Plans
- The whole school budget

Graduated Response (Assess, Plan, Do, Review)

Teaching students with SEND is a whole school responsibility. All teachers maintain a continuous cycle of planning, teaching, assessment and evaluation that takes account of the wide range of abilities, aptitudes of the students. The majority of students at Gunnersbury Catholic School learn and progress through these arrangements.

A 'graduated response' is adopted for students identified as having SEND. Support is provided to enable the student to achieve at least adequate progress. Additional provision is identified and managed by the SENDCO.

Wave 1

Quality first teaching by all teaching staff.

Wave 2 (SEN Support)

Is initiated where students have failed to make adequate progress as identified by the SENDCO or Senior Leaders. Criteria for Wave 2 includes:

- Low numeracy/literacy scores.
- Key Stage 2 SATs Scores.
- Teacher's observations.
- Primary teachers' comments.
- Concerns from staff or parents.

Interventions may include:

- Additional learning programmes such as Lexia, Units of Sound, Cogmed, Toe by Toe, Touch Typing.
- Smaller intervention groups including social skills.
- Appropriate teaching groups/sets.
- Group classroom support from a teaching assistant.

Wave 3 (SEN Support)

Where students still fail to make adequate progress, despite additional provision at Wave 2, the school seeks advice and involvement from external support services.

They are requested to:

- Provide specialist assessments.
- Give advice on teaching strategies or materials.
- Provide short term support or training for staff.
- Provide short term teaching to students.

New strategies are put in place following the involvement of student and parents. Should the assessments identify that a student requires additional provision on a regular basis for an extended period then the school will apply for additional resources. The application will be evaluated against criteria established by the local authority.

Wave 4

Students in this category will be subject to an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). The school will work with parents/carers, and the student themselves, to successfully implement this plan.

Statutory Assessment

If a student fails to make adequate progress and has demonstrated a significant cause for concern, the school and/or a parent/carer may decide to request that the local authority undertakes a statutory assessment. This may lead to the student being provided with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP).

Whole School Budget

The School employs teaching assistants and a specialist SEND teacher to work alongside the SENDCO. Money is also spent within departmental budgets to purchase resources appropriate for SEND pupils.

Identification and Assessment Arrangements

Students' progress is monitored through the schools termly assessment procedures. Students in Key Stage 3 all complete a reading test each year during the summer term. Learners with SEND are also identified through:

- Primary/secondary transition.
- Inter-year school transition.
- Investigation of parental concerns.
- Investigation of teacher concerns.
- Diagnosis of SEND by external agencies or external professionals.

SEND In-Service Training

In-service training is the responsibility of a Deputy Headteacher who consults with other staff within the school about training needs, including the SENDCO.

Other training involving SEND is organised by departmental heads, they examine available courses and consider the appropriateness of these, both for themselves and their departmental colleagues.

NQT and student teachers at Gunnersbury Catholic School undertake organised programmes; these include input from the SENDCO.

Parents of students with SEND are also contacted by a member of the SEND department to discuss their child's progress and plan for the future.

It is also possible for parents to arrange appointments to discuss matters with various teachers including the SENDCO.

Additionally, parents with students who have Education Health and Care Plans are invited to attend an Annual Review meetings each year.

Pupil Participation

The school recognises the important of pupil participation. Pupil participation includes:

- Participation in meetings.
- Attending/contributing to Annual Reviews.
- Contributing to transition planning - including meeting with the Careers Advisor.
- Any discussion concerning changes of placements.
